

The Library

The department has its own collection of books and journals which students and faculty may borrow and use. The journal collection constitutes both national and international volumes in the area of Human Development and Family Studies. Additionally, it includes copies of all theses and dissertations submitted by graduate students, and publications of the department staff.